See Fine Exhibit

Our two advertising cars now traveling through the east, are attracting much attention and hundreds of people visit them daily and view the wonders of our favored section. We clip the following from The Daily-Times News of Ann Arbor, Mich.

"One of the most interesting and instructive exhibits which has ever been seen in Ann Arbor is that which are sidetracked in the Ann Arbor yards between William and Liberty streets which brings direct to inland Michigan with its variable climate and cold winters a bit of sunny California with its wonderful climate, soil and crops.

"The exhibit is arranged by the North of the Bay Counties association, composed of the five counties north of the bay of San Francisco, this association in turn being composed of 12 commercial bodies whose secretaries form the general association.

"Added to the general interest in the land of gold and sunshine, of wonderful fruits, grains, magnificent vegetables and curious creatures of interest, is the fact that in this land is the home of Luther Burbank, the wizard of horticulture, who has produced many valuable and interesting varieties in this garden spot of America. One of the interesting specimens shown in the car is the spineless cactus, in which Mr. Burbank has taken a scourge of the plains, not only valueless but an absolute detriment, and produced an edible article good for feed which is being produced in this district 35 tons to the acre, and which has, in addition to the food value for cattle, a fruit which averages four or five tons to the acre, and which retails in the San Francisco markets at $3 50 per box at present. From his investigations, Mr. Burbank finds that one acre of cactus leaves produces as much sugar as three acres of beets.

But the cactus is but one of the interesting things in these wonderful cars, for there are 75 kinds of fruit, all of which are raised in the five counties of Marin, Napa, Sonoma, Lake and Mendocino.

Plums are shown growing on a branch so thickly that they form a solid mass, and cherries and pears and peaches, seven of which quartered fill a big jar. Then there are apples and apricots, lemons and oranges, quinces and big luscious olives.

Then too there are wonderful grains and nuts of all varieties, the English walnuts being twice the size of those which are seen in this part of the country. These walnuts are from trees owned by a woman whose entire crop for the next ten years has been contracted for, and her land is said to be easily marketable at $1,800 per acre. There are wonderful palm leaves which extend the length of the car, and corn and other grains, and then, too, there is the pampas grass, sea feathers, all sorts of sea creatures and wonderful shells.

Then, too, there is a big shark, 36 feet long, which weighed 10,385 pounds and which was 460 years old when caught as is told by its vertebrae, 92 in number, each one of which takes five years to develop, so the scientists say. There are but three of these sharks in captivity, one in Europe and one at Leland Stanford university. Another interesting creature is a wonderful octopus, or devilfish, ugly and curious.

Then, too, every visitor to the cars is given a souvenir well worth the trip to the car to secure, and every married lady receives a beautiful pampas grass plume.

The car will be here until Tuesday morning at 6 o'clock and during the time it will be opened daily until 9:36 p. m., being beautifully lighted by electricity. The exhibits will not be open on Sunday.

The admission fee is 15 cents to all, and the fair on wheels is well worth many times the price asked.

If you hoe your own row with diligence you will have little leisure to note how your neighbor is hoeing his.

"If the shoe fits, wear it," is a time-worn saying; but with a woman if the shoe fits she takes it back because it is too big.

A Fine Entertainment

The Woman's Improvement Club of Glen Ellen are highly elated over the success of their entertainment last Friday evening in Mayflower Hall. The hall was filled and all enjoyed the program emmensely.

Mrs. Robert Potter Hill gave an address of merit on the benefits o libaries to communities, pointing out the usefullness and pleasures derived from reading good, wholesome books and emphasizing their value from an educational standpoint.

Among those who appeared upon the program were Mrs. Reese, in vocal selections; Miss Bethune mandolin solos; Miss Reynolds, violin solos; Miss Emily Poppe of Sonoma, piano solos; Miss Emily Crepin, piano solos; Miss Amy Poppe, recitations, and others. Each of the performers was encored and gave several selections.

After the program a luncheon was served by the Ladies' Aid Society.

The proceeds of the evening will be donated to general library purposes.

Senator Price Returns

Senator Walter F. Price is home again from his extended trip through out the eastern states, which he made in company with B. B. Deming, secretary of the State Board of Examiners. The result of the trip of these two officials will be the saving to the state of California of thousands of dollars in the establishment of the new Trades and Training School. This is the measure presented to the legislature by Senator Price and which was passed with an appropriation for its establishment and maintenance. The school is to be along advanced lines and tended to uplift young boys and girls who are left orphans and have to depend on their own resources, by giving them the advantage of training in some particular work, in which they can gain a livelihood. Attorney General U. S Webb was with these officials a portion of the time.—Republican.

SONOMA COUNTY WINS

The exhibit at Idora Park is attracting much attention from all the people who visit the park, and the Sonoma county exhibit is receiving more than its average share of attention because of the splendid exhibit of products that are shown there.

So far Sonoma county exhibits has received at the Idora Park fair eleven first awards of blue ribbons, one diploma and one silver medal. This is an excellent showing.

Sonoma county received the first prize on the best general display of variety of apples shown by any of the counties. In this Sonoma was pitted against Santa Cruz and Monterey counties. Watsonville, the famed apple section, is in Santa Cruz county and this award is decidedly pleasing to the people of Sonoma county.

The Sonoma exhibit is prettily arranged, showing the products of the favored section in their proper shape. The vegetables are all grouped together, and the fruits shown in one portion by themselves.

So far the Sonoma county exhibit has taken at the State fair in Sacramento and Idora Park fair nineteen first prizes of blue ribbons, two diplomas and two silver medals.

Aeroplane Race to Pole

Orville Wright thinks he could go to the north pole in an aeroplane. Judging from the experience of Cook, going there might be easier than proving he had done so. An aeroplane race to the pole might be exciting, and with the winner could announce his arrival at the pole without the long delay incident to the feats of Cook and Peary. That would eliminate the necessity of giving out the story of the trip in installments and make copyrighting the news a matter of greater difficulty.

An Easy Champion

Jas. O'Rourke is the champion deer hunter this season in Sonoma. About two weeks ago he made a one day trip and returned early in the afternoon with a fine large buck. Last week he and two friends made another sortie and bagged two more, all deer being killed within 15 miles of Sonoma.

LET US SUM UP

During the past year the citizens of Sonoma have done more for the improvement of our city than in many years previous. This shows a more concerted effort, a leaning toward each other, a feeling of fellowship and a united effort for the upbuilding of Sonoma.

Many improvements have been made that have added much to our city's beauty. Among the most noted being: Napa street has been broadened partly and new curbing made and a contract has been let for treating the remainder of this street along the plaza in the same manner. The first money for this work was appropriated by the City Trustees and recently, the Woman's Club donated $395 85 to complete this work. These same ladies also furnished $125 for the erection of a rustic fountain in the new plot in the plaza. This plot was also made during the past year and "Sonoma Day" brought it to a successful termination. The conception of this bright idea, and for this we are again indebted to the Woman's Club.

One good move deserves another and immediately our Trustees spent over $600 piping water to the plaza from the two artesian wells owned by the city on First Street West..

Again, the Trustees have let contracts for the building of a concrete bridge in the city limits, near the the Clewe estate.

Aside from all this the Plaza Committee have had a man continually at work cleaning up the plaza in general.

While not exactly in this list, there remains one vital subject we must not overlook: The sewer system—a petition has been presented to our City Trustees recommending immediate action towards establishing a system in this city. We await their decision.

Taking all these improvements into consideration, we feel free to state that our residents are beginning to work more in accord and all lend a helping hand instead of the usual knock.

Will Publish Story

Knowing that everyone is interested in the recent discovery of the north pole and that the world at large blesses Dr. Cook, the discoverer, despite the fact that Commander Peary is ever trying to paint Cook as an imposter, liar and any name he could readily lay his tongue to, we take pleasure in announcing that we will publish "Cooks' Own Story of the Discovery of the North Pole" shortly.

Cook has proved that he is a gentleman a thousand times since his return and we believe him to be the first man to reach the pole, regardless of the many accusations of Peary. Watch for the story.

Races Postponed

Owing to the rains last Saturday and Sunday, the races at Santa Rosa were postponed one week, and in consequence thereof, the roadbeds are harder and the dust is laid. The drivers expect to travel at a much higher rate of speed.

Another feature of this big meet will be an aeroplane on exhibit. While the machine is not large enough to carry a passenger, it will give all an idea of the much talked o heavier-than-air machine and will be worth a long trip to see.

The Men's League

The next meeting of the Men's League will be held at the Methodist Church on next Sunday evening, October 3, beginning at 7:30 p. m. The address will be delivered by Rev. E, B. Payne, of Glen Ellen, who has chosen as his topic "Bread and Civilization." Mr. Payne has a reputation as a progressive thinker and an interesting speaker, and his address will beyond doubt be one that will hold the attention of all thoughtful persons. Though the address will be the main feature of the evening, there will be a short one is not only invited but urged to attend these meetings of the League

THE FAIR

The long talked of fair of the Catholic Church was opened in Union Hall on last Wednesday evening and a throng of our citizens were present to add their small portion to the event.

The booths are all beauties. On the left on entering the hall one views the Fish Pond—a pond of red and ivy and here the fond angler casts his unbaited hook into its mystic depths, trusting to the chance of luck and unlike the regulation fisherman, always receives a bite and withdraws his hook laden with something of value.

Next we view the American Booth with its beauty of arches draped in red, white and blue, reaching nearly to the ceiling and covered with innumerable electric lights. Here we see many an article of beauty and value and here are found many prettily dressed ladies vieing with each other for each gentleman's signature, and incidently his quarter,—a chance on many valuables articles.

Further along the hall our eyes rest upon a large yellow and green canopy, tastily arrainged and beautifully decorated with festoons of ivy. This is the St. Joseph booth, and beneath this broad and spacious enclosure we see fancy work from masters, paintings true to life, and many aprons, etc., for the housewife. At this booth one is also met by a bevy of ladies, book and pencil in hand and—well it was no use—we had to begin again, making our sign on the numerous books and shelling out the necessary calateral.

We reach the stage, tastily decorated in the national colors, and here the different entertainments of he week will be presented to the public.

Come down the other side of the hall we see the St. Francis' booth, a building, we believe, representing the St. Francis' Church, covered with green and minature red, white and blue electric lights. Another hailstorm of ladies pelt us and, weakened from our previous encounters, we dig up, meanwhile looking at each valuable article displayed and longing for possession of the weatherred oak rocker and the previlege of resting our weary bones therein.

We stroll along—wonders of wonders—we next behold a tent of red and white and a faint glow of light comes dimly to our sight, but that is all. Not a sign of life—not a lady present to ask us to seek the future or learn the past and here we draw a long breath, but upon seeing the Lemonade booth we quicken our steps and quench our thirst with soda water drawn by fair ladies' hands.

We reach the door and are about to leave when someone says "Tag, you're it." and I guess we are and we meekly stand by while one pins on a ribbon and another a card.

Crushed by Tank

Hugh P. Mullen was seriously injured in San Francisco Monday afternoon, while working with other structural iron workers. While raising a large tank at the Hotel San Marico on Geary St., was pinned between the tank and wall and when gotten out was unconscious. He was immediately taken to the Central Emergency Hospital where it was found he was suffering from a crushed chest and possibly internal injuries He was later removed to his home at 529 Castro St., where he is now resting easy, although he is still in a dangerous condition. He will probably recover.

Mr. Mullen is well known in Sonoma, and was married five years ago to Miss Lulu Johnson. They have many friends here who will regret to hear of his accident.

High School Report.

We wish to thank Mrs. Cooper, Mrs. Soderberg and Mrs. Poppe, through this column for the beautiful plants, they presented to the school.

We had our pictures taken on the high school steps Wednesday. We all wore our best smile

Don't forget the basket ball game between our boys and Napa, October 16 at Union Hall. Save your pennies and come.

Two new pictures. "The Campus at Berkley" and "Section of the Stanford Quod," arrived Wednesday. The "Ulster" was at the bottom of it all.

Sonoma is to be treated to an art exhibit some time next March at the high school.

ANA NIAS

Sonoma Suit

An interesting suit came to trial in Judge Denny's court on Wednesday. It was that in which L. Quartaroli, C. Dal Pogetto, F. Fochetti and N. I. Heggie, as administrator of the estate of the late C. Aguillon, sue the City of Sonoma et al., to recover the sum of $3,629, which they claim is due them for material, including cut stone and granite, etc., used in the construction of the new city hall at Sonoma. The trial brought a number of prominent residents of the historic place to town to attend the court sessions as witnesses and spectators.

The plaintiffs were on the bond of Contractor McQuiddy who started in to erect the city hall and failed. They had to "come through" and claim that the material involved in this proceeding became their property, but it was used by the city.

The witnesses called for the plaintiffs were S. K. Dougherty, S. Sherer, L Quartaroli, Charles Dal-Pogetto and J. Fochetti. Then the case rested. Attorney William F. Cowan, who represented James Newman, a parto defendant, made a motion for a non-suit. The motion was denied.

Joe B. Small was the first witness called for the defendants and then an adjournment was taken until Thursday morning. The plaintiffs are represented by Attorneys James C. Sims and James Wyatt Oates; the City of Sonoma by Allison B. Ware and City Attorney R. A. Poppe, and James B. Newman by Attorney William F. Cowan. – Press Demortat.

A Fine Shot

One of the best crack shots in the United States, paid Sonoma a visit last week, Wm. Hillis, and gave an exhibition of shooting that proved himself the master of arms.

Mr. Hillis is an old hunter and trapper and in a recent trip to Alaska killed five bears with a 30 caliber Remington auto-loading rifle. The stock of one of his guns was made by an Eskimo out of the tusk of a mastadon. It is a relic of much value and Mr. Hillis has refused an offer of $500 for it.

At his exhibition on the race track Saturday, this gentleman threw up balls of one inch in diameter and broke all with apparent ease He then threw up four clay pigeons and broke them all before any had finished their flight.

One of the most difficult shots was made when he extratced the empty shell from a 22 riffle and while the same was still in the air, hit it with a shot from the next cartridge. He then threw up a half inch washer with a paper pasted across the hole and hit the paper every time. His last shot was at a loaded 22 cartridge thrown in the air, hitting it and firing it off.

Mr. Hillis is certainly a fine shot—really the best we have ever seen and it is hoped he will make Sonoma another visit in the near future. He represents the Sonoma Metallic Cartridge Co.

A Gallant Rescue

Oh Friday the 24th ult, while the son of Mr Brown Wilt, of San Francisco, was reclining in a chair at Boyes Springs, he overbalanced himself and fell in the tank, Police Officer, J. W. Greenlee of the Oakland police force, gallantly plunged in and picked up the boy from the bottom where the bewildered child was trying to cling. The boy entirely recovered from his involuntary bath and was bright and chipper as a sparrow afterwards. The guests at the Bellevue, where all parties are stopping, are divided as to whether Mr. Greenlee should receive a medal or a gold watch.

Ducks and Quail Suffer

Duck and quail season opened today and in the marsh and woods can be heard the bang of the gun. A few irate farmers are out with the "big stick" driving away trespassers but the hunters journey on and shoot everything in sight. By night fall we expect to see these lovers of hunting return heavily laden (?) with the spoils of the day's endeavors.

Ye Mission Bells

"Let us not stop till once again, in every nook and dell of our beautiful valley, can be heard the sweet echoes of Mission Bells," extract from Father Leahy's talk Saturday evening.

The mass meeting held by the Woman's Club Saturday evening, proved to the doubting ones that the Mission is to be restored. Many turned out for the cause of our Mission, in spite of the rainy weather. R. A. Poppe acted as chairman of the meeting and in the opening remarks stated that if the State refuses again to extend aid for the restoration of the Mission, every citizen should use his influence to have the State cede the Mission to the City of Sonoma, that it may be properly taken care of.

Father Leahy was the first to be presented and in his remarks referred to the work already done by the Sonoma Parlor, N. S. G. W., also of the work to be accomplished by all. On closing, he said that it took money and not talk to repair the Mission.

Mrs. Powers, President of the California Landmarks League, spoke next and described the work of the League and the work it had done in connection with the purchasing of the Mission here. She also mentioned that the California Northwestern Pacific had promised their assistance in the work of restoration.

Judge Seawell in his remarks, dwelt on the work done by other localities with historical buildings He also stated that it was the duty of all Sonoma county to help in the work and concluded by saying that the Native Sons of Santa Rosa wished to donate fifty dollars to the work.

F. T. Durhing appeared next and told us of his endeavors towards the appropriations asked and refused by the Governor. Mr. Duhring has used wise forethought in preserving the adobe bricks and placing them under shelter for future use.

The orchestra of the Sonoma State Home gave a number of fine selections which were enjoyed by all.

The exact amount of the funds raised has not been learned but it is somewhere near the $300 mark.

Do You Feel Chilly, Then Feverish and Ache all Over?

Feel Worn-out, Blue and Tired? Have You a Fresh Cold, With Frequent Hacking Cough? Sensation of Soreness in the Chest or Back?

Don't let your case run into bronchitis, or some other obstinate and dangerous malady. The very best medicine to take in such a case is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Made without alcohol or dangerous drugs, it contains that rare combination of native medicinal roots that will allay a cough (iron it out, as it were), restore the circulation, assist the appetite and digestion, and consequently restore tone to the entire system. That is the reason people look happy once more after taking it—they feel like living, because their liver is active, the blood in their arteries is full of that life-giving quality—rich, red blood. The blood in turn feeds the nerves.

Nervousness and neuralgia are only the indication that the nerves are not fed on invigorating blood. This "Medical Discovery" of Dr. Pierce is nature's own restorer. It tones up the organism and invigorates its functions, furnishing to the body one of its necessary constituent principles of which it is in need.

This preparation is of pleasant taste, agrees perfectly with rebellious and sensitive stomachs, and is extremely effective in restoring tone and vigor to the entire system. It cures troubles of the stomach and at the same time the blood-vessels are given such a toning up as to throw off a cold. One very good reason why it restores the health of run-down, pale and emaciated people is because it first throws out the poisons through the liver and kidneys. It then begins its reconstructive work in building up flesh and making good, rich, red blood.

"I have been a sufferer from indigestion for some thirty years, at times," writes Mr. S. W. Mullenax, of Circleville, W. Va., "and have used medicine from several of our best physicians, which gave me only a little temporary relief. They said I could never be cured. Last winter I was stricken with the worst spell that I ever had. I suffered with such severe pains in the pit of my stomach that I could neither work nor sleep, and my weight went down from one hundred and ninety-five pounds to one hundred and sixty pounds in about two months' time. I then concluded that I would try Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. By the time the first bottle was gone, I felt some relief from my severe suffering so continued until I had used four bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I am truly thankful for the great benefit which I have received from your medicine, and can cordially recommend it to others."

It Stands Alone not only in respect to its ingredients but also as the only medicine for stomach, liver and blood disorders, which absolutely CONTAINS PURELY VEGETABLE AND PERFECTLY HARMLESS INGREDIENTS, WITH NO ALCOHOL.

It Stands Alone as the best alterative medicine, the makers of which take their patients fully into their confidence and tell them exactly what they are taking. This Dr. Pierce can afford to do, because his "GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY" is made of such ingredients and after a working formula that has thousands of cures to its credit, placing its merits above criticism.

It Stands Alone as Nature's cure for many chronic diseases and its ingredients are: Golden Seal root, Queen's root, Stone root, Black Cherrybark, Bloodroot, Mandrake root, and chemically pure glycerine.

Remember, these are the ORIGINAL Little Liver Pills, first put up by old Dr. R. V. Pierce, over 40 years ago, and although much imitated, have never been equaled. Made of concentrated and refined medicinal principles, extracted from native American plants and roots, therefore purely vegetable and perfectly harmless. One little Pellet for a stomachic, or stomach and bowel regulator, three tiny granules for a cathartic.

A WOMAN DUELIST.

By HAROLD OTIS.

[Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association.]

Serane, fencing master at Paris, when dueling was not only more common but more serious there than now, prepared the way for the killing of many men by teaching his art to the Parisians. It was generally understood that a pupil of Serane was sure to kill his man. If his lessons were really so valuable it must have been partly owing to a special confidence given the pupil and a corresponding loss of nerve on the part of the opponent. At any rate, those whom Serane had taught usually had little trouble in settling their disputes without recourse to the foil.

One evening Serane was sauntering down the boulevard and on reaching the opera concluded to go in and attend the performance. One of the singers on the stage was a woman named Maupin. Though she was not singing an important part, Serane's gaze was constantly fixed upon her. Why one woman's personnel will appeal to one man when another woman is the chief attraction for other men is an insoluble problem. We only know that the fact exists. In Maupin, Serane saw that which appealed to him strongly. At the close of the performance he sent his card to her and received an invitation to call upon her behind the scenes.

"M. Serane," she said as soon as he appeared. "I deem myself fortunate in your desiring to make my acquaintance. You are well known to me by reputation as a splendid teacher of fencing, and I wish you to give me lessons."

Serane found the singer as fascinating in the greenroom as on the stage. She was young, fairly good looking, and about her was a certain abandon which when not too pronounced is attractive to men. Serane fell desperately in love with her, and she permitted him to love her in order that she might get out of him all the skill in fencing he was capable of imparting. She was an apt pupil and, taught by a lover, became the most skillful fencer that had ever been turned out from his academy.

No sooner had Maupin acquired the art than she began to attract attention as a duelist. At first her affairs with the sword leaked out as mere rumors. One report was that a young nobleman who had been devoted to her had fallen by her hand; that, disguised in men's apparel, she had insulted him and killed him without his knowing of her identity. Again it was rumored that she had fought and killed another woman. That she was applying her skill in affairs of this kind there was no doubt, though some that were attributed to her had no foundation in fact.

She liked to have Serane with her both on account of his devotion and because his presence gave her additional eclat as a swordswoman. But he came to understand that she craved blood or the excitement of taking it, and he endeavored to dissuade her from her course.

One night Serane and Maupin were dancing at a students' ball in the Latin quarter when Maupin jostled the belle of the evening, and upon the girl's looking at her resentfully Maupin was rude to her. The insulted girl was dancing with an intimate friend of Serane, Gustav Grammont. Grammont, supported by two other men, ordered Maupin to leave the room. She said that she would do so provided they would go with her. They did so, and before morning she had killed them all.

Serane in this affair refused to support Maupin. Indeed, she was obliged to call on another man to act as her second. The day after she had killed Grammont and the others Serane received a note from her accusing him of cowardice in having deserted her in the hour of need and challenging him to mortal combat. Stung to the quick by her ingratitude, he sent a hasty reply accepting the challenge.

The man who had been a lover and had taught the object of his love to kill people, filled with a mad remorse, resolved to kill her, thus punishing her and stopping her career of bloodshed. They met in his academy, the doors of which had been bolted and the windows screened. Maupin stepped out on to the floor with as much composure as a mother would administer food to a babe. She looked at Serane with a stony stare and said:

"Serane's pupils always kill their opponents."

There can be no doubt but the woman said this to fill her antagonist with a superstitious dread that would take away his nerve. If it had any such effect, Serane gave no evidence of it. A revulsion of feeling had come over him. Had this not occurred, had he opposed Maupin as a lover, as she had presumed he would, there would have been no chance for him. As it was it was a fair fight between them.

But with Serane in full possession of his faculties there could not be a fair fight between them. As soon as Maupin saw that she had lost her power over him she knew that, if he chose, her punishment had come. The moment they crossed swords she saw in Serane's eyes not only a determination to kill her if he could, but a perfect confidence of being able to do so.

Singularly enough, this woman who had conquered men with men's weapons no sooner discovered that her womanly influence over the man who had furnished her with her power had ceased than every particle of her confidence deserted her. She gave her opponent a mute look of appeal. He answered it with a sword thrust to the heart.

A Burnt Child

dreads the fire. The dread is wholesome, but not the burn; that can be healed and instantly relieved by applying Ballard's Snow Liniment. A Human Hiss Cowed the Lion.

At Cape Town a lion tamer was going through a performance in a cage with a full grown lion lately caught. Suddenly it was seen that the brute was putting the trainer through his paces rather than being put through itself. Softly, crouching and creeping, the big cat edged itself between the thoroughly unnerved man and the door of the den, fixing its victim with two rolling yellow orbs of flaming ferocity and sawing the empty air with its tufted tail as it crouched preparatory to springing. Many men among the audience, used to the ways of wild beasts, saw and comprehended, but only one man possessed the knowledge and the presence of mind to avert the apparently inevitable. Pursing up his lips as though he were going to whistle, he emitted a hoarse, low, rasping hiss. The beast heard and understood, for the sound was an exact imitation of the noise made by the giant constrictor when its huge body is coiled for the throw that never misses, that never relaxes and that no beast of the field is strong enough to withstand. Again and yet again the raucous sound rasped the stillness, and the angry brute drew back its head, its great eyes grew small and dull, the hackles rose and stiffened on its back, and it cowered, whining, on the floor of the cage.

Gambling

your life against 25 cents is just exactly what you are doing if you neglect a cough or cold on the chest instead of treating it with Ballard's Horehound Syrup. A 25 cent bottle of this splendid remedy will cure an ordinary cough, heal the lungs and act as a tonic for your entire system. Sold by L. S. Simmons.

Wasted Opportunities.

"How did you like my talk last night?" asked the beginner in the lecture field.

"Well," replied the candid critic, "you didn't take advantage of your many opportunities."

"I didn't?"

"No; you had a number of opportunities to quit before you did."—Philadelphia Press.

"Can be depended upon" is an expression we all like, and when it is used in connection with Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy it means that it never fails to cure diarrhoea, dysentery or bowel complaints. It is pleasant to take and equally valuable for children and adults. Sold by all dealers.

Up to Snuff.

A man in workman's garb one day called at a local dentist's, and the door was opened by a maid.

Workman—Is the gent in that draws teeth?

Servant—No, sir, but I expect he will be in shortly.

Workman (pausing on doorstep)—Does he give gas?

"Yes."

"What does he charge?"

"One dollar."

"What—one dollar! Do you mean to say, miss, a fellow's got to swallow over 1,000 feet of gas to have one tooth pulled out? No fear. I reckon I knows a bit about it, for I work down at the gas works myself. I'll go to another dentist and have it pulled out without gas."—Exchange.

Hoppity Ho.

Are you barely getting around with the aid of crutches or a cane? Unless you have lost a limb or have a deformity—if your trouble is rheumatism, lumbago, sprain, stiff joints or anything of like nature use Ballard's Snow Liniment and in no time you can throw away your crutches and be as well as anyone. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by L. S. Simmons.

Not Interested.

"I have called," said the book agent, "to see if I can interest you in a little work"—

"Young man," snapped the woman who answered the door, "just now I am interested in washing my dishes, dusting, cleaning up after the paperhanger, making six beds, polishing the hardwood floors, ironing my husband's shirts, getting two more meals today, darning nine pairs of stockings and stringing my sweet peas, and I might say that that's more work than you men ever thought of doing. No; you can't interest me in any more."—Detroit Free Press.

Not a minute should be lost when a child shows symptons of croup. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, will prevent the attack. Sold by all dealers.

Going Some.

"Yes, sir," said old man Braggard, "as soon as I see them birds I went into the house and took down the old blunderbuss and pegged at 'em, and, by gorry, I brought down thutty birds to one shot. Can ye beat that?"

"Ya-as," drawled Uncle Si Peavey. "You know Bill Wiggins' frog pond?"

"Yes," said old man Braggard. "What of it?"

"Waal, I went down there the other night after sundown to shoot a couple of bullfrogs with my old shotgun," said Uncle Si. "There was 5,000 of 'em settled on them there lily pads, and I just lifted that there gun to my shoulder and let her go."

"S'pose you did," said old man Braggard. "How does that affect my bird story?"

"Beats it all holler," retorted Uncle Si. "The minute my gun went off them bull derned 5,000 bullfrogs croaked."—Harper's Weekly.

A Burglar in Town

his name is bad cough. He doesn't care for gold and silver but he will steal your cough away. If he appears at your house arrest him at once with Ballard's Horehound Syrup, it may mean consumption if you don't. A cure for all coughs, colds and chest troubles. Price 25c 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by L. S. Simmons.

An Independent Miller.

When Frederick built his famous palace of Sans Souci there happened to be a mill that greatly hampered him in the execution of his plans, and he asked the miller for how much he would sell it. The miller replied that for a long series of years his family had owned the mill, which had passed from father to son, and that he would not sell it for any price. The king used every solicitation, offered to build him a mill in a better place and pay him, besides, any sum he might demand, but the obstinate miller still persisted in his determination to preserve the inheritance of his ancestors.

Irritated at last by his conduct, the king sent for him and said in an angry tone:

"Why do you refuse to sell your mill notwithstanding all the advantages I have offered you?"

The miller repeated his reasons.

"Do you know," continued the king, "that I could take it without giving you a penny?"

"Yes," returned the miller calmly, "if it were not for the chamber of justice at Berlin."

The king was so flattered by this answer, which showed that he was incapable of an act of injustice, that he dismissed the miller without further entreaty and changed the plan of his garden.

Don't waste your money buying plasters when you can get a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment for twenty-five cents. A piece of flannel dampened with this liniment is superior to any plaster for lame back, pains in the side and chest, and much cheaper. Sold by all dealers.

Getting an Early Start.

"Father, what do you wish me to be when I grow up?"

"The same as I am, my son—a lawyer."

"Then instead of wasting any more time on arithmetic, geography and such truck I'd better be getting at the hypothetical question, hadn't I?"—Judge.

Defying Death.

There is no use of reading any more rules about how to live a long time. An old lady 100 years old has eaten New England doughnuts all her life.—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is today the best known medicine in use for the relief and cure of bowel complaints. It cures griping, diarrhoea, dysentery, and should be taken at first unnatural looseness of the bowels. It is equally valuable for children and adults. It always cures. Sold by all dealers,
